

Genesis 23

Read Genesis 23: This is another chapter that is heavy in symbolism. Sarah dies in the same year that Isaac and Abraham went together to the Mt. Moriah sacrifice. In the scriptures, Sarah is symbolic of Israel, God's wife. Sarah never met her daughter in law Rebekah. Rebekah is symbolic of the church, the bride of Christ. We came along after the Old Testament believers. Abraham sent his servant (like the Holy Spirit) to find a willing wife, in a foreign land to marry his only begotten son.

Abraham owned everything, but he acted like he owned nothing. The Cave of Macpelah is considered the second holiest site in Israel (next to the temple mount). Buried there are; Abraham, Isaac, Sarah, Jacob, Rebecca, and Leah.
